

BABE RUTH CLOUTS 3 HOME RUNS; WORLD SERIES RECORDS SHATTERED

Crowds Go Wild As Yanks Break Loose at Outset

By JAMES M. KAHN

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6.—Babe Ruth, colossus of swat, came into his own here this afternoon when he blasted out two terrific homers in his first two trips to the plate against Flint Rhem, star right-hander of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Ruth's first homer came with two out in the first inning. He smashed one high into the right field stands. His second came in the third inning, when he caught hold of a fast curve and drove it out of sight over the center field stands, the longest hit ever seen on this field. Even the rabid St. Louis fans were moved to a hearty ovation at the feat of the Bambino.

It was a grim Yankee team that faced Rhem in the opening half of the first inning. Miller Huggins had played his noble athletes before they took the field and the team was smarting under the lash.

After Combs and Koenig had been struck out by Rhem, Babe Ruth walked to the plate. The Babe had two bats over his shoulder as he walked to the platter and he held on to a particularly vicious bludgeon when he walked into the batter's box.

The first ball Rhem stuck in the groove was a fast, shoulder-high offering. Ruth pivoted, lashed with all his strength and drove the pellet far over the right field stands for the first Yankee home run of the series.

Meusel drew a pass, but was nailed at the plate when he tried to make three bases on Gehrig's single down the first base line.

The Cardinals were not daunted by the Ruthian blow. In their half of the first Douthit and Southworth opened up on Hoyt with singles. With two strikes on him, Hornsby scored Douthit from third with a single into right field, and the stands went crazy. Hoyt retired the side without further damage.

Neither team scored in the second inning, but there was a threat of fireworks in the air. Hoyt had settled down into his regular stride, and he was working in fine fashion.

The hint of fireworks developed into an actual fact in the Yankees' half of the third, when with two out, Ruth crashed his second homer of the game over the center-field bleachers, one of the longest hits ever seen on this field. That put the Yanks into the lead at 2-1.

The Cardinals failed to score in their half so the Yanks were still in front as the fourth inning got under way, due to Babe's spectacular assault and battery.

The Yanks got a lucky break in their half of the fourth on an unfortunate accident. After Gehrig had been retired, Lazzeri walked. Dugan's short lift into the outfield sent Hafey and Douthit crashing into each other and as they went down in a heap Lazzeri scored all the way from first. That gave the Yanks the edge at 3-1.

Cardinals Fighting

With everything against them, including the psychological angle, the Cardinals came back like a set of wildcats in the last half of the fourth and by virtue of timely hitting and eternal aggressiveness took the play entirely away from the boisterous New Yorkers. The Cards scored three runs in the fourth and captured the lead at 4-3.

Bath Ruth saved another run

(Continued on Page 28)

Ruth Hits 3 Homers!

YANKEES	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Combs, cf.	5	2	2	4	0	0
Koenig, ss.	6	1	1	1	3	1
Ruth, lf.	3	4	3	1	1	0
Meusel, rf.	2	1	1	1	0	0
Gehrig, 1b.	3	0	2	8	0	0
Lazzeri, 2b.	3	1	1	1	3	0
Dugan, 3b.	4	0	1	1	2	0
Severeid, c.	4	1	3	10	0	0
Hoyt, p.	4	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	34	10	14	27	9	1
ST. LOUIS	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Douthit, cf.	5	1	2	2	2	0
Southworth, rf.	5	0	3	1	2	0
Hornsby, 2b.	5	1	2	3	4	0
Bottomley, 1b.	4	0	1	6	1	0
L. Bell, 3b.	4	0	1	3	0	0
Hafey, lf.	5	1	1	0	0	0
O'Farrell, c.	4	1	2	8	1	0
Thevenow, ss.	4	1	2	3	2	0
Rhem, p.	1	0	0	0	1	0
Reinhart, p.	0	0	0	0	0	0
H. Bell, p.	0	0	0	0	0	0
Hallihan, p.	0	0	0	1	0	0
Keen, p.	0	0	0	0	1	0
Torporcer	0	0	0	0	0	0
Flowers	1	0	0	0	0	0
Holm	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	39	5	14	27	14	0

Torporcer batted for Rhem in fourth inning.
H. Bell replaced Reinhart in fifth inning.
Flowers batted for H. Bell in sixth inning.
Holm batted for Hallahan in eighth inning.

SEVENTH INNING SUMMARY

Two-base hits—Lazzeri, Dugan.
Douthit, Koenig, Gehrig, Combs.
Home runs—Ruth 3.
Sacrifice hits—Bell, Torporcer, Lazzeri, Hoyt, Gehrig.
Stolen base—Hornsby.
First base on error—Cards 1.
Left on bases—Yanks 10, Cards 9.
Bases on balls—Off Rhem 2, off Reinhart 4, off H. Bell 1, off Hoyt, off Hallihan 3.
Struck out—By Rhem 4, by H. Bell 1, by Hallihan 1, by Hoyt 7.
Hits—Off Rhem, 7 in four innings; off Reinhart, 1 in no inning; off H. Bell, 4 in two innings.
Balk—H. Bell.
Umpires—Klem, plate; Dineen, second; O'Day, third; Hildebrand, on third.
Attendance—40,000.

Ponzi of Movies, Known As 'Camembert Count,' to Be Brought Here for Trial

Instead of returning to his native Switzerland, to which he asked to be deported following his arrest at Orville, O., "Dr." Edmund Camenzind Gaston or E. Gaston de Regnier—and many other aliases—in all likelihood will be forced to come back to New York and face his alleged dupes.

District Attorney Banton this afternoon declared he would immediately ask Gov. Smith to sign a warrant in rendition proceedings which were set in motion as soon as the grand jury handed up to General Sessions Judge Levine an indictment accusing the adventurer and shoe string promoter with second degree grand larceny.

The charge is an outgrowth of his effort to float the Maxamount Film Corporation, which maintained offices at 46 West 8th St.

"Dr." Gaston, who occasionally styles himself E. Gaston De Regnier, is well known to the local police, District Attorney Banton revealed today. To them he is the "Swiss Cheese Count" and the "Count of Camembert." He first made their acquaintance in May, 1925, when he was arrested for passing a bogus $175 check, given in payment for a radio set.

Mr. Banton said today that the plan to start the Maxamount Film Corporation may have been conceived in prison, for it was shortly after the man's discharge that he set the organization in motion which allegedly mulcted Peggy Udell, former "Follies" girl and Hollywood screen actress; Frederick H. James, motion picture technician, and many others.

Hoyt, Rhem Pitching Mad In War of Right-Handers

By James M. Kahn

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 6.—Under clear blue skies and with a strong sun taking the chill off a brisk wind blowing in out of the northwest, the fourth game of the series got underway here today promptly at 1.30 before another capacity crowd of almost 40,000.

It was a battle of right-handers, Hornsby starting Flint Rhem, the club's biggest winner this season, against the right-handed ace of the Yankee's, Waite Hoyt. O'Farrell and Severeid were the catchers and both line-ups remained the same.

The fine spirit and fairness that manifested itself toward the Yankees yesterday was continued today. The Yanks made their entrance on the field to the strains of "The Sidewalks of New York," played in a fine sentimental spirit by the band in left field. The song was taken up by the great crowd, and the Hugmen got a loud and encouraging reception.

Waite Hoyt

Flint Rhem

Bill Klem, National, was the umpire in chief behind the plate; Bill Dineen, American, was on first; Hank O'Day, National, on second, and George Hildebrand, American, on third.

The game in detail:—

FIRST INNING—Combs up. Fast one on outside called a strike. Ball one, low. He swung at a fast curve on outside for strike two. He fouled one over grandstand behind third base. A fast ball cut the middle and Combs was called out on strikes. Koenig up. That fast curve of Rhem's broke right over the plate for the first called strike. Mark swung at another for strike two and watched the third one just like it go over the plate. He was called out on strikes. Ruth up. He hit the first ball pitched a mile up in the air over the right field stands for the first Yank home run of the series. Meusel up. The first two were balls. He missed fast curve, strike one, and fouled another to the back screen for strike two. Ball three, change of pace, was high. He fouled into the stands behind first. He fouled another behind the catcher. He drove a foul over the right field stand. Meusel walked on a low pitch outside. Gehrig up. Ball one. Columbia Lou socked a smashing single through Bottomley, but Meusel, trying to cross the Cardinals by racing all the way from first on the blow, was nabbed at the plate. Southworth to Hornsby to O'Farrell.

Babe Ruth

Lou Gehrig

ONE RUN, TWO HITS, NO ERRORS, ONE LEFT.

Douthit up. He beat out an infield hit to short, beating Koenig's throw to Gehrig by a step. Southworth up. First two were balls.

Strike one was a foul to back screen. He fouled a fast one into the stands behind third. Ball three was high, fast curve outside. Southworth singled to center, sending Douthit to third. Hornsby up. The crowd is wild, shrieking for a continuation of the assault on Hoyt. Ball one. He fouled one into the stands for strike one. Hoyt stuck a fast one over for strike two. Hornsby singled to right, scoring Douthit with the tying run. Southworth stopping at second. Bottomley up. Ball one was a pitchout. He swung wildly at a fast one for strike one. Attempting to bunt, he hit a foul to back screen. Bottomley lifted a high fly to Ruth and left Hornsby and Southworth holding their bases after the catch. Bell up. He drove a long sacrifice fly to Combs in deep center, Southworth going to third after the catch, Hornsby holding first. Hafey up. He fouled a fast one to back screen, strike one. Ball one high outside. Ball two a fast low one, outside. Strike two was another foul to back screen. Hornsby stole second as ball three was called, a low pitch that hit the dirt. Hafey struck out.

ONE RUN, THREE HITS, NO ERRORS, TWO LEFT.

SECOND INNING—Lazzeri up. Ball one outside. With one ball on him, Lazzeri placed a fast one to the right center field wall and started tearing around the bases. It was a long two base hit, but in his attempt to stretch it to three bases, Tony was caught at third. Douthit to Thevenow to Bell. Lazzeri squawked about the decision to Umpire Hildebrand and the

(Continued on Page 28)

Sure Relief

HOME SIZE SAVES MONEY

BELL'S FOR INDIGESTION

HEARTBURN, SOUR STOMACH, HEADACHE, DIZZINESS, GAS, DISTRESS FROM EATING OR DRINKING, ACUTE INDIGESTION

SOLD AND GUARANTEED BY EVERY DRUGGIST